Privacy Policy

Last updated: 8/7/2023

Introduction

This Privacy Policy explains to you how us (Ender X Softworks) protect, use, collect your personal information and data. This Policy merely governs the information collected through Ender X and does not cover any practices occurring through third-parties. Our goal is to consistently provide our customers and buyers with a secure and protected experience by maintaining strict privacy practices through our software that provides you a quality experience through script creation and execution.

Our products and services are not intended for, nor designed to attract, persons under the age of thirteen (13), and we do not knowingly collect personal information from children under the age of thirteen (13). If we become aware that we have collected personal information from a child under the age of thirteen (13), we will delete that information.

Data and Information we collect:

- Your username
- Your password (stored as hashed in our third party software system.)
- Your email address
- Your last login date (The last time you opened Ender X.)
- Your hardware ID (A part of your system like the processor id)
- Your IP address

DISCLOSURE

We may disclose personal information to enforce our policies, comply with warrants, subpoenas, or other valid legal processes. If we are legally able to, we will inform you that a request has been made to disclose your personal information. We will not sell your personal information in any circumstances.

How We Use The Informations We Collect

- Process your transactions.
- Provide customer support.
- Send commercial communications to you, with respect to your communication preferences.
- Used for certain features inside the software.
- Develop new features and services

SECURITY

We take security strictly and assure you that we take appropriate security measures to protect against unauthorized access to or unauthorized alteration, disclosure, or destruction of data. These include internal reviews of our data collection, storage and processing practices and security measures, including appropriate encryption and physical security measures to guard against unauthorized access to systems where we store personal data. We restrict access to personal information to company employees, contractors, and agents who need to know that information in order to process it on our behalf. These individuals are bound by confidentiality obligations and may be subject to discipline, including termination and criminal prosecution, if they fail to meet these obligations.

CHANGES TO THIS POLICY

We may provide changes within this Privacy Policy; it is your job to stay updated with these changes and they can be indicated by the change of the date “Last Modified” located at the top of this document. We may provide you with this data if you consult us through ender.X.exploits@gmail.com for a copy of these documents. If we make changes that we believe marginally impact the privacy of your personal information, we will provide notice to you via electronic means to provide notice of such changes (and, if necessary, obtain consent for these changes) before then posting the updated Policy on this website where it will be effective-immediate (unless otherwise stated).

YOUR RIGHTS

You may review, correct, or update your personal data at any time through contacting us via ender.X.exploits@gmail.com. Depending on your location and subject to any applicable law, you may have the following rights regarding the personal data that we collect and control about you.

- You may have the right to request that we update any inaccurate or outdated data.
- You may have the right to request a copy of your personal data.
- You may have the right to request that we erase your personal data (read GDPR RIGHTS).
- You may have the right that we restrict the use of your personal data in certain circumstances provided by the law.

To exercise your data protection rights, you may contact us through ender.X.exploits@gmail.com whereby we will comply with your request to the extent of applicable law. We will not be able to do anything if we do not currently hold your personal data. For protection purposes we must verify your identity, such examples can be seen by verifying personal data changes via the verification through an email address – and if it matches what we currently have. If we do not need to perform such tasks, we will not use any information to identify you. If you believe we have not provided you with a satisfactory response, you may consult your data supervisory authority in your country.

GDPR RIGHTS

We recognise your GDPR rights, regardless of if you live in the EU or not. Under the General Data Protection Regulation, you have the right to:

- Access your personal data.
- Request that your personal data be rectified, erased, or blocked.
- Object to the processing of your personal data.

- Request that your personal data be transferred to another controller.
- Withdraw your consent.
- Lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.

If you would like to exercise any of these rights, please contact us at ender.X.exploits@gmail.com. We will respond to your request within 30 days. If you feel like we have inadequately provided you with your rights (or are incapable of accessing a specific right provided by the GDPR rights), contact us as ender.X.exploits@gmail.com.
